Report on “Awareness, Prevention and early recognition about Breast and Cervical Cancer”

The College Internal Complaints Committee(CICC) organized a program on “Awareness, Prevention and early recognition about Breast and Cervical Cancer” on 23.12.2021 for BGSIT ladies staff and students. This event was organized by College Internal Complaints Committee headed by Dr. S V Shashikala, HOD, CSE. The resource person for the program was Dr Amita K, Professor, Department of Pathology, Adichunchanagiri Institute of Medical Sciences, B.G. Nagara.

The key objective of the program was to create awareness about breast and cervical cancer, which are the most common cause of cancer mortality among women worldwide. Actually they are preventable diseases. However, a notable window of opportunity for prevention and treatment are often wasted because of less knowledge or no awareness and low level of screening centers. Around eighty members (ladies staff and students) participated in the program.
